A Note from Producer Gregory James Blount

I have been in the entertainment industry for over 20 years as a Producer and Publisher, and in my experience I have met and worked with some pretty amazing people. I've discovered several stars including Amber Heard and Gunnar Smith (The Muppets) and placed many talent with legitimate agencies, in their local area and in major markets. I have also met thousands of parents who want to help their child break into the entertainment industry, but lacked the understanding, knowledge, and guidance to make it a reality. This industry is all about who you know and who you train with, therefore we will be happy to provide you references upon request.

As a motivational speaker and as a parent myself, I believe that the performing arts is a great avenue to teach life skills such as building self esteem, self worth, self expression, and strengthening interview and public speaking skills, all leading to a positive self image. Our performing arts camp was created to not only be a guide for aspiring talent, but to guide parents as well, which is why we require all talent under the age of 18 to be accompanied by at least one parent, and strongly suggest both parents to attend. The program covers all aspects of the industry from performance to business including acting, singing, modeling, dancing, and the marketing skills to accomplish those set goals. It is important for talent to build a solid foundation, therefore, the program is taught in a non-competitive environment.

Upon acceptance on attending our program, you will meet, network, and work with some of the world's top industry professionals in the business while building the tools necessary to succeed! If you are serious about learning, developing your skills, understand marketing and have the required determination to take your talent to the next level, then I look forward to meeting you at our upcoming Talent Camp!

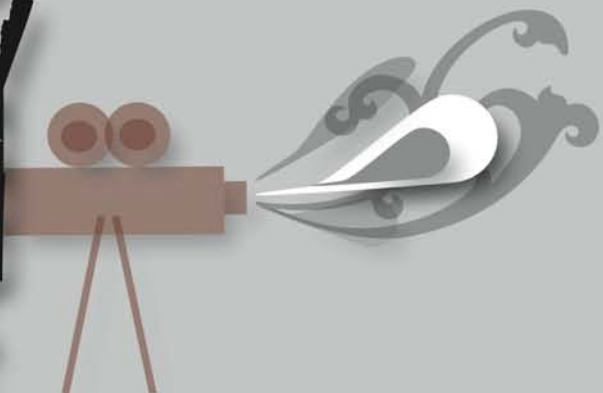

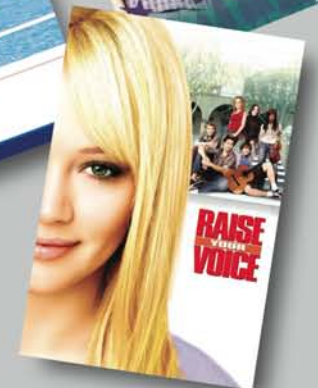

Image Is Everything!

Let's go back to the basics...We are ALL models! In one way or another, someone looks up to each of us as a role model. A pretty face with long legs won't go too far unless the confidence and positive self-image are along with it. Don't fall into the cliché notions of the "modeling world." Instead, stride right in and take the real modeling world by surprise!

Our fashion experts, along with our fashion and commercial photographers will set up a great foundation for a beautiful portfolio, and guide you through the proper steps of modeling. Whether a commercial model at 5'3" or a runway model at 5'9", our experts will empower you to make long lasting impressions on your journey as a model.

Some of our classes offered include "Walking for the Runway," "Your Style," and "Photo Posing Techniques." You will take part in two photo sessions with two amazing photographers who have shot for clients such as CosmoGirl, Mademoiselle, Teen Vogue, Louis Vuitton, Elle Magazine, Avon, MAC Cosmetics, and many, many, more!

Now, let's kick that self-esteem into high gear and get ready to strike a pose!
